

THE COUNCIL OF THE FEDERATION
LITERACY AWARD

2023

NEW BRUNSWICK'S
CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

The Council of the Federation was created in 2003 by Canada's Premiers because they believed it was important for provinces and territories to be leaders in matters that are important to all Canadians. In 2004, the Council of the Federation agreed to recognize achievements in literacy in every province and territory through the Council of the Federation Literacy Award.

A Message from the Premier

The Government of New Brunswick is proud to support the improvement of literacy levels in the province and across the country by recognizing outstanding achievement, innovative practice, and excellence in literacy.

We know that early literacy is essential to good jobs, strong families, and equal opportunity. It is imperative that we encourage the development of literacy skills early on so that our children can be equipped with the skills they need to be successful in the future.

The provincial government continues to invest in initiatives that rely on the talent and expertise of Adult Literacy Educators, including Community Adult Learning and Workplace Essential Skills programs. These initiatives serve over 2,000 adult learners per year, and we are thankful to those who have continued to provide these services.

As a province, we will continue to advocate for initiatives that will help both children and adults with their literacy needs. We believe that by building a community and a network of support, we will be able to help children and adults learn and improve their literacy skills.

With that, I am pleased to announce that nominations are now open for the New Brunswick 2023 Council of the Federation Literacy Award. I strongly encourage you to recognize and nominate an adult literacy educator here in the province who has demonstrated extraordinary teaching, research or program development ability resulting in an improved quality of life for New Brunswickers.

Honourable Blaine Higgs Premier

How to Make a Nomination

Nominations are invited for individual New Brunswick adult literacy educators. New Brunswick's 2023 "adult literacy educator" nominations will highlight Educators who had a visible impact on the lives of learners, literacy delivery and their communities. They have exceptional abilities to understand, advocate and promote life-long learning through their teaching, research, or program development.

You can nominate (or self-nominate) any adult literacy educator in your community or region who:

- resides in New Brunswick;
- is an adult literacy educator;
- consents to his/her nomination;
- has taught a Community Adult Literacy program in New Brunswick, a Workplace Essential Skills initiative or has been a community-based adult literacy tutor;
- had learners who benefited greatly and/or have developed/used innovated teaching techniques to help learners achieve success; and/or
- has demonstrated exceptional commitment to literacy development by giving back to the community (via community service, leadership, etc.).

In addition to a monetary prize of $150 and a donation of $150 to a New Brunswick non-profit adult literacy organization (chosen by the recipient's nominator), the award recipient will receive a Council of the Federation Literacy Award medallion and certificate.

Nominations must include:

1. A nomination form completed and signed by the nominee.
 2. A document featuring the nominee's success as an adult literacy educator. It can be written by the nominee or the person making the nomination. It must answer the following questions about the nominee's experience:
 - How has the nominee made a difference in the lives of learners?
 - What does the nominee consider to be his / her most remarkable accomplishments?
 - What are some examples of the nominee's dedication and commitment to improving literacy skills in New Brunswick?
- The personal history document should not exceed two typed pages or three legible handwritten pages.
3. a) Two letters of support:
 - From a learner or colleague of the nominee.
 - From another person (colleague or employer) who has been aided or inspired by the nominee.b) Letters of support should be a maximum of one typed page and should answer the following questions:
 - Why does the nominee deserve the award?
 - How has the nominee's contributions impacted community literacy programs?
 4. The name and address of the New Brunswick non-profit adult literacy organization to receive a donation (chosen by the nominator).

The nomination form, information about the nominee, two letters of support and the name and address of the nominator's choice of a New Brunswick non-profit adult literacy organization must be mailed / emailed on or before May 28, 2023, to:
